

THE STATLER HOTEL'S GUIDE TO UNIVERSITY EVENTS

Today at Cornell

Wednesday,
April 5, 2006

Weather Forecast

Synopsis: Variably cloudy and windy with snow flurries

High Temperature: 42°F (6°C)

Low Temperature: 29°F (-2°C)

Culture

Johnson Museum of Art (10:00am-5:00pm)

Rembrandt at 400

In celebration of Rembrandt's 400th birthday, selected etchings and prints will be displayed along with works by later artists influenced by Rembrandt's genius.

The Architect's Brother

This exhibit of innovative photographs by Robert and Shana ParkeHarrison tell stories of healing and restoration amid landscapes scarred by technology and overuse that gently remind the viewer to consider the state of our one and only earth.

Department of Music

Cornell University Klezmer Ensemble

(8:00pm, Barnes Hall)

The Ensemble, Joel Rubin, Director, and Rabbi Eli Silberstein, Cornell Chabad, will lead the audience in singing Yiddish songs. Free and open to the public.

Lectures and Seminars

School of Hotel Administration

Conversations with Entrepreneurs

(12:00pm, Statler Hall, Room 565)

The Institute for Hospitality Entrepreneurship will host Lee Stein, Managing Partner, Virtual Group, LLC, in this series of events which give participants the opportunity to engage in intimate dialogue with entrepreneurs who have been distinctly successful in shaping the hospitality industry. Open to students.

Cornell University

Theoretical and Applied Mechanics

Unstable Attractors, Synchronization and Computation:
Exact Dynamics of Spiking Neural Networks
(4:30pm, Thurston Hall, Room 205)

The seminar will be given by Dinesh K. Pai, Rutgers University. Free and open to the public.

Cornell University Library

The Ghost in the Book: Writer and Reader

(4:30pm, Goldwin Smith Hall, Lewis Auditorium)

The featured speaker will be Pulitzer Prize-winning author Marilynne Robinson. Free and open to the public.

American Studies Program

From Deindustrialization to 9/11 and Katrina: The Political Ramifications of a Two-Class Society
(4:30pm, McGraw Hall, Room 165)

The guest speaker will be Dale Maharidge, Columbia University. Free and open to the public.

Developing Elementary Education Opportunities in China

The Chinese Are Coming: Personal Reflections on China,
Past and Present (7:30pm, Statler Hall, Auditorium)

The presentation will be given by Preston Torbert and Jia Zhao. Free and open to the public.

Campus Life

Department of Athletics

Softball (3:00pm, Hoy Field)

Cornell versus Saint Bonaventure. Free and open to the public.

Cornell Cinema Presents

Sneak Preview! American Dreamz

(9:30pm, Willard Straight Hall)

The President of the United States agrees to be a guest judge on an "American Idol" style TV show. Free passes are available at the Willard Straight Ticket Desk.

Recurring Events

McGraw Tower Chimes (7:45am, 1:10pm; 6:00pm)

Freshman Experience Tour (11:00am, Day Hall)

Campus Tour (1:00pm, Day Hall)

BROUGHT TO YOU BY THE STATLER HOTEL AND J. WILLARD MARRIOTT EXECUTIVE EDUCATION CENTER